A Settlement has been reached with Schnuck Markets, Inc. ("Schnucks") in a class action lawsuit about a security breach that occurred between December 9, 2012 and March 30, 2013.

On March 30, 2013, Schnucks announced that its computer systems had been compromised by an individual or group of individuals who had planted a malicious computer code on its systems (the "Security Incident"). The Security Incident involved the insertion of malicious computer code that targeted data in the magnetic stripe of credit and debit cards swiped at 79 Schnucks stores. For a list of the 79 stores, go to www.SchnucksCardClaims.com.

Visit the website or call 1-855-382-6393 to get a Detailed Notice with more information about the Settlement.

What is this about?

The lawsuit claims that Schnucks was responsible for the Security Incident because Schnucks did not take appropriate care to protect its payment card systems from hacking. The lawsuit seeks compensation for people who had losses as a result of the Security Incident.

Schnucks denies all of the claims and says it did not do anything wrong.

Who is included?

You are included in the Settlement if you made a purchase using a credit or debit card at a Schnucks store between December 9, 2012 and March 30, 2013.

What does the Settlement provide?

The Settlement provides three types of payments to people who submit valid claims.

1. Reimbursement of up to $200 for out-of-pocket expenses and documented lost time that resulted from the Security Incident. This payment type provides reimbursement related to 14 categories of out-of-pocket expenses and lost time including unreimbursed bank fees, card reissuance fees, overdraft fees, postage and credit reports. The Detailed Notice has the complete list of categories.
2. $10 for each credit or debit card that had fraudulent charges as a result of the Security Incident, even though those charges were reversed or credited back to your account.

3. Reimbursement of up to $10,000 for extraordinary unreimbursed monetary losses which were more likely than not caused by the Security Incident.

Depending on the number of valid claims, some payments may be reduced.

How do you ask for a payment?

To get a payment you must submit a claim. To get a Claim Form, visit the website or call 1-855-382-6393. The claim deadline is December 31, 2014.

Your other options.

If you do not want to be legally bound by the Settlement, you must exclude yourself from the Settlement Class by December 9, 2014, or you will not be able to sue, or continue to sue, Schnucks about the legal claims this Settlement resolves, ever again. If you stay in the Settlement, you may object to it by December 9, 2014. The Detailed Notice explains how to exclude yourself or object.

The Court will hold a hearing in the case, known as McGann, et al. v. Schnuck Markets, Inc., Case No. 1322-CC00800, on January 13, 2015, to consider whether to approve the Settlement and a request by Class Counsel for attorneys' fees of $635,000 and reasonable costs, expenses, and incentive awards of $500 for each of the Class Representatives. You or your own lawyer, if you have one, may ask to appear and speak at the hearing at your own cost, but you do not have to.
